

RECRUITMENT
FOR AGENCIES

WHO ARE WE?

AMACOM is the recruitment & selection and executive search agency for agencies. Due to our extensive recruitment experience for advertising & creatives, we speak the same language; you don't have to explain to us what, for example, a Digital Account Director, UX or Visual Designer, Producer, Creative Conceptor or Social Media Manager does. Or what the differences are between the agencies themselves. We can therefore advise you extensively about this.

We work for (digital) creative agencies, advertising and internet agencies, activation agencies, social media and purpose driven agencies. We also advise and support fashion & lifestyle and purpose driven brands in building and expanding their creative departments. Our clients trust us in our first selection, which makes the people, which makes the people who are selected by us often enter the conversation with a 1-0 lead!

We have a nice network of agencies that we work for. We often know which positions are available in the market and which agencies, start-ups or cool brands are looking for new talents.

What kind of positions are we active for? A few examples:

- Creatives, Copywriters and Art Directors
- Designers (Visual/UX/UI)
- Strategists
- Project-/Account Managers and Producers
- Traffic & Studio
- Social Media Managers and Content/Social Specialists
- Staff (HR, Finance, Office)
- Developers
- Management (CEO/COO/CCO)

→ OUR PROCEDURE

Do you see a vacancy that you're interested in? Respond via the link provided at the bottom of the job description. If your background fits well with the position you have applied for or with other positions, we will invite you as soon as possible for an introductory meeting at our office/or schedule a call. When we meet, we often already know which agency/client could be interesting for you (and we have usually already discussed this over the phone). Your data will of course never go anywhere without your permission and all information and applications will be treated confidentially.

Our services for candidates are completely free of charge. Our clients pay us a fee for searching and selecting the right candidate.

→ CANDIDATES

The profiles of the candidates that you see on our website have been drawn up together with the candidate in an extensive introductory meeting. Would we like to meet, but are we unable to coordinate our agendas? We are flexible and can agree with you whether it is possible after working hours or we may schedule a video call.
